Time to Eat and Discover the Local Flavours

Malta is a surprising and pleasant discovery even at the table. As in any other country, the character of the Island is also found through its taste. In Malta, the offer of traditional Mediterranean dishes is very rich because of the numerous populations that, over the centuries, have colonized the Island: Italians, English, French, Arabs and Phoenicians. Each has left its own influence which is found today in a mix of flavours and ingredients that characterize Malta's culinary identity.

- Culinary delights & local flavours
- Artisanal activities

The InterContinental Hotel (click HERE to discover our beautiful property) is ready to welcoming you and ensure that in the proximity or within the premise itself, you will be able to organise fun activities for your attendees which will last in their memories forever:

- Bowling (at the Eden Superbowl)
